"Bo far as police intimidation is concerned, any man's life—even Mr. Taber's—is perfectly safe in New York so long as he behaves himself and don't poke his nose into other people's business. Such talk is all bosh."

Baid Inspector Steers: "All I've got to say is this: I naven't got any of that $7.000,000 or $10,000,000 or whatever it is."

Considerable interest is being manifested in the proceedings of the present Grand Jury, which bogan its sittings yesterday, with Charles H. Isham, of 123 Hast Thirty-seventh street, as foreman.

Poreman Taber, of the March Grand Jury, has written a letter to District - Attorney In Micoll, exonerating Police Court Clerk Pericy brom the charge of warning Gambler "Dink" Day's that he was to be arrested.

Col. Perley, Lowever, says this is not enough. He wants last week's presentment amended and the exoneration made a part of the records.

In addition to these payments he had reinvested the sum of $114,450, which Work had collected as profits accruing to Col. James from the investments. That made the total sum he paid to Work $4,54,003,75 from March I, 1883, to May 5, 1884.

Mr. Work paid him in checks, drafts and cash in that time $24,023,75, thus leaving a balance at the time of the last investment in May 1884, of $207,820.

Col. James said that a few days after the fallure he and Work were talking matters over. Work asked him how he was fixed, incaning how he stood financially.

"I reptied," said Col. James, "that I didn't believe I had money enough to pay my washbill.

"It was at that time," added Col. James, The hypophosphites of It was at that time," added Col. James there nearly twenty years, and is well known.

Morris and Hutchinson married sisters, and Morris had been in Hutchinson's employ about sixteen years.
The trouble between them occurred about 7 o'clock in the evening of March 26. Morris had been drinking on that day. He had been in the habit of locking up the store, but because of his condition Hutchinson demanded the key from him, and told another employee to lock up. Morris wouldn't give up the key and it is said tried to stab Hutchinson
with a pitchfork.
According to a statement made by Morris has inght, Hutchinson struck him and drove him out into the street, where he knocked him down and kicked him in the side. Morris was taken to his home and attended by two physicians, Drs. West and Stone.
It was not until March 30 that the police heard of the affair. Detective Carey then arrested Hutchinson. Dr. West gave a certificate that Morris was in no danger, and Hutchinson was released on $1,000 bail in Jefferson Market.
Last evening Dr. Stone reported at the West Twentieth street station that Morris was in a critical condition and liable to die. Detective Carey got a statement from the injured man a few hours teerore he died. He said that he critical condition and liable to die. Detectivo Carey got a statement from the injured man a rew hours before he died. He said that he gave Hutchinson no cause for assaulting him. Detective Carey arrested Hutchinson at his home, 521 West Twenty-third street, and he was locked up at the West Twentieth street station. Hutchinson is a man of fitty-five. He claims that he acted in self-defense. Morris, he declares, was drunk and disorderly, and created a scene because he was not allowed to close up the store. He says that Morris ran at him with a pitchfork, and that he had a narrow escape from being stabbed by him.

When asked by the Recorder why he had attempted to take his life, Rose repited that he had only recently come on from san Francisco, where he was employed as a book keeper. He was robbed in New York of all of his means, and being out of employment and having no friends here, he had decided to drown himself.

Rose was temporarily committed to the County Jail, the Recorder expressing a hope that some one would come forward and befriend him.
